

Free Training!

Wednesday, JUNE
3rd, 2015 from 9
AM until 4:30 PM

DOUBLETREE SUITES AT SOUTHCENTER
16500 SOUTHCENTER
PARKWAY
SEATTLE, WA 98188

Click Here to Register!

No LTCW credits will be awarded. A certificate will be awarded at the conclusion of the seminar.

Target Audience:

employment agencies,
community living providers,
persons with disabilities and their families/advocates, teachers and
paraprofessional, county,
DDA and DVR staff.

➔ Forward to a Friend

Autism Spectrum Disorders in Adolescence and Early Adulthood: Characteristics and Issues

Dr. Carol Schall, Director of Technical Assistance and Virginia Autism Resource Center – Virginia Commonwealth University is Returning to Washington for this well received workshop

Participants will learn:

- Characteristics of autism
- Autism specific research
- Transition from adolescence to adulthood
- Positive Behavior Support
- Employment Supports
- Practical applications of technology
- Collaboration between schools, employment service providers and home/community living
- Implications for future research

Dr. Carol Schall has been learning from and supporting individuals with autism since the early 1980's. She is involved in supporting individuals across Virginia through her at Virginia Commonwealth University. She is well versed in completing functional behavioral assessments and using positive behavior supports to develop comprehensive plans for individuals from a person-centered approach. She is a state trainer for the Positive Behavior Supports Project with the Partnership for People with Disabilities at Virginia Commonwealth University. Her research interests include the monitoring of psychotropic medications for individuals on the autism spectrum, transition from school to work and adulthood, and training for parents and professionals on serving people with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Her honors include TASH's Positive Support Award. Dr. Schall has also been listed in the 2005 and 2006 Who's Who in America.

This workshop is sponsored by DDA Roads to Community Living